Fronting

For many corporations, the use of a self-insured retention or a captive insurance company is an essential part of their risk management strategy. While these strategies provide insureds with proven benefits, there is still a need for related administration. Liberty International Underwriters ("LIU") combines fronting with established value underwriting, quality claims management and available risk control services to help minimize a corporation's total cost.

Self Insured Retention (S.I.R.)

S.I.R. programs can help the insured fund losses from current cash flow, as well as reduce risk transfer costs. LIU provides fronting and policy issuance capabilities to insureds to support their programs.

Captive

Captive programs serviced by LIU provide a one-stop option for fronting an insured's coverage needs and emphasizes the integration of risk management with risk financing.

Global Placements

As corporations expand into the international marketplace, they often look for a single source to handle both their domestic and international insurance requirements. LIU can provide access to services in over 90 countries via Liberty Mutual Group or its strategic partners in key international markets.
